

Today in the Quad-Cities Job for refugee vanishes

Tran Van Tuyen doesn't have a job, after all.

The newly-arrived refugee from South Vietnam had hoped to obtain employment in electronics and electrical work. But he is now being barred as having insufficient training.

Apparently at least partly related to the 30-year-old refugee's difficulty is a campaign launched by a local woman against the idea of a non-citizen receiving electronics training.

She fears that any non-citizen with expertise in electronics and communications might be able to learn enough about American technology that a potential national security risk could develop.

An officer of Douglas Contracting Co. said yesterday it had been hoped to obtain an electrician's work permit for the man if he proved able to handle the task.

No such permit will be sought, and there will be no work for Tuyen, the contractor stressed in voicing hope that pressure from a group of women will be halted.

The woman who began the lobbying effort called the Press-Record and said she represents many residents who agree with her that employment should go to local high school graduates and to other Quad-Cityans who lack jobs.

She said she had called the contractor.

He related to the Press-Record that he had talked Wednesday to "four or five" women callers, all of whom assailed the idea of the refugee obtaining training.

"It's a shame," the contractor commented. "He needs to get a job to support himself. But I don't think he knows as much about electrical work as he thought he did. He won't be working for me, at any rate."

Tuyen was a lieutenant in the South Vietnamese army before fleeing from the Communist advance in late April.

Also at a mutual friend's home in Madison is a South Vietnamese woman, Nguyen Thi Khue Dung, 25, a pharmacist before fleeing to the United States.

Record injury award

THOMAS HOOKS of Venice. He was awarded $7 million Tuesday as a result of injuries suffered at a Washington, D.C., hotel four years ago. The amount awarded is expected to be appealed and it could be several years before he receives funds from the jury verdict.

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Thomas Hooks, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Hooks, 527 Washington Ave., Venice, was awarded Tuesday afternoon — by a U. S. District Court jury in Washington, D.C. — damages in the amount of $7 million stemming from a swimming pool diving accident in Washington.

The hour of 1:30 p.m. Friday, June 4, 1971, is seared into his memory as the time of a dramatic change in his life. The injury deprived him of the use of both arms and both legs.

The award is the largest ever given in the nation's capital in a personal injury negligence case and may be the largest such award to an individual in the country, according to his lawyers, Rex Carr of East St. Louis and Martin Frome of Bethesda, Md.

It was noted by Carr that the amount possibly will be appealed and it could be several years before the youth actually receives any money.

In a two part trial, a six-member jury heard lengthy testimony and then took 52 minutes to determine that the Washington Sheraton Corp. and the TTT Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington were liable for the accident.

Hooks, who was an officer in Explorer Post 10-4, sponsored by the Madison Police at the time of the accident, was attending a national Explorer Presidents Association meeting

YOUTH RESCUED FROM WATER. Eugene Yates, 16, of 1732 Delmar Ave., nearly drowned in a borrow pit between Highway Three and Route 151 west of the A. O. Smith Corp. plant at 1 p.m. Tuesday. Helping the boy are Granite City firemen Jim Brawley,

Overall taxes up

Quad-City taxpayers will pay higher tax bills this year under new combined tax rates in all of the four townships of the area, as well as in other taxing areas where the taxpayers live within the boundaries of more than one taxing agency.

On the basis of new tax rates announced by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, the overall taxing rates have increased without exception in all six separate taxing areas of the Quad-Cities.

Granite City Township taxpayers, for example, will pay bills this year under a total tax rate of $6.642 per $100 assessed valuation to seven taxing bodies, an increase of 32.3 cents per $100 valuation over last year's rate of $6.319 paid to six tax agencies.

The additional tax body to which Granite Cityans, as well as taxpayers in Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau Townships, will pay taxes this year, is the Belleville Area College. The Quad-Cities were among areas joining the BAC district a year ago which will be required to pay taxes for the first time this summer.

A computation of new tax rates for tax bodies within the Quad-City area shows that property owners in the City of Madison will pay bills on an overall tax rate of $5.997 per $100 assessed valuation, up 26.7 cents from last year's combined rate of $5.63. Here again, Madison taxpayers will pay taxes to seven taxing districts this year, compared with six a year ago due to the addition of the BAC district.

Taxpayers living within the eight taxing districts of the city of Venice will pay taxes under a combined rate of $5.726 which is 47.5 cents higher than last year's combined rate for seven taxing districts amounting to $5.251.

Boy, 8, hurt in bike-car mishap

Billy G. Warren, 8, son of Mrs. Linda Warren, 3404 Kirkpatrick Homes, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:25 p.m. Tuesday with injuries suffered in a bicycle-auto accident in the 6000 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Milton L. Worthen, 21, of Tower Lake Apartments, Edwardsville, told police the boy came from between two parked cars into the path of his auto which struck the bicycle, causing the boy to fall off and strike his head on the pavement.

Billy was taken by ambulance to the hospital and treated for abrasions to the right knee and contusions to the head. He underwent x-rays of the skull and spine before being admitted.

A Granite City tavern owner and four customers were robbed by two armed holdup men at 10:30 p.m. Wednesday, with the alleged robbers apprehended about an hour later by Madison and Granite City police departments.

In custody today at Granite City police headquarters, charged with the armed robbery of Miss Mae's Tavern, 1369 Edwardsville Road, are Marlin Ray Hutchinson, 26, of 1216 Meridian Ave., Granite City, and Russell B. Hughes, 22, of Apt. 13, Garesche Homes, Madison.

It was learned that the two arrested were among five or six men viewed in a lineup at Granite City police headquarters early this morning.

Miss Mae Bangert, owner of the tavern, said two men walked into the premises wearing black nylon stockings over their faces and holding what appeared to be .45 caliber weapons. "This is a holdup. It's not a joke. Don't move or I'll kill you," one man said.

One of the holdup men stood toward the back of the room while the second man told the tavern owner to hand over her purse, which was empty. He then told Miss Bangert to open the cash register and he removed an undetermined amount of cash.

The pair also robbed four patrons seated at the bar, taking a wallet containing $400 cash, a gold ring and a watch from one man, wallet containing $50 and a watch from a second man, $3 cash from a woman customer and a watch from another woman.

Patrons robbed were Howard Green of Madison and Mr. and Mrs. James Welch and Mrs. Laura Lapmeyer, all of Granite City.

Nab robbery suspects

The Nameoki Town Board Tuesday night voted unanimously to retain its township tax collector's office in adopting the 1975-76 town budget.

The town fund budget on display for the past month was approved after no questions were raised in a public hearing prior to the meeting.

The budget allows $6,000 for the collector's salary and $4,656 for office expenses.

Auditor Norman Hessler, chairman of the budget committee, said, "Of the 26 townships in Madison County, 14 are providing for their own township collector even though the matter of a county service charge has not been settled."

"We can't wait any longer on this matter, and last year it paid us to have our own collector."

Hessler requested that all highway department books be brought up to date for an audit on Tuesday, June 3, and the Township Fund records will be audited along with the revenue sharing books on Tuesday, June 17.

Auditor Lee Adams called attention to the fact that a bill referred to as "No man's land" bill in relation to fire protection should soon pass the Illinois legislature. The bill is now in the Senate.

Adams noted that if it does pass, Nameoki Township will not have to pay the city of Madison for fire protection in the Cloverleaf addition, and that the bill probably will require the city of Venice to furnish fire protection to the Eagle Park area.

Auditor Kenneth Gieson acted as chairman of the meeting as Louis Whitsell township supervisor did not attend.

Douglas Teator, town clerk, also was absent.

Auditors attending the meeting were Eugene Gargac, Adams, Hessler and Gieson.

The board approved a total budget of $115,262 for town purposes, $39,000 for general assistance, $8,500 for municipal retirement and $68,800 for the revenue sharing budget.

Boy, 16, rescued

Eugene Yates, 16, of 1732 Delmar Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday after he nearly drowned in a borrow pit.

The pit, which has become a swimming hole for local youth, is located behind the A. O. Smith plant between Illinois Route 3 and FA Route 151 (Great River Road).

Yates was one of several youths swimming in the pit Tuesday when he reported cramping. Two unidentified youths reportedly pulled him to shore and summoned police, but did not return to the scene, according to Yates.

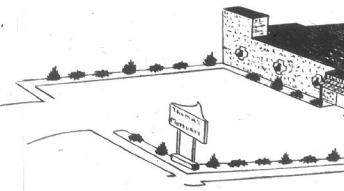

Granite City firemen and Madison County sheriff's deputies, along with an ambulance, responded to the call for help.

The pit was created by the Hoeffken Brothers Construction Co. of Belleville which is digging out the dirt to use on the FA Route 151 overpass at Chicago Avenue on the Granite City Army Installation ground.

Edwardsville Road, are Marlin Ray Hutchinson, 26, of 1216 Meridian Ave., Granite City, and Russell B. Hughes, 22, of Apt. 13, Garesche Homes, Madison.

It was learned that the two arrested were among five or six men viewed in a lineup at Granite City police headquarters early this morning.

Miss Mae Bangert, owner of the tavern, said two men walked into the premises wearing black nylon stockings

MR. AND MRS. WALTER KELLER, whose wedding took place at St. Joseph Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Karen Pelate, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pelate, 2573 Stratford Lane.

Keller-Pelate nuptials at St. Joseph Church

The wedding of Miss Karen Pelate and Walter Keller was solemnized in an afternoon ceremony on May 3 at St. Joseph Catholic Church. Officiating at the double ring service at two o'clock was the Rev. Henry Mack. Mrs. Clea Judd presided at the organ for Bob Kerrigan, who sang "If," "Ave Maria" and "Our Father." Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pelate, 2573 Stratford Lane. The groom is a son of Mrs. Dena Smith of Salem, Ill., and the late Delbert Keller. For her wedding, the bride chose a full-length gown fashioned of white sheer tulle. The lace overlay bodice was accented at the high neckline with floral lace motifs. Matching lace appliques created the upper part of the sheer bishop sleeves and formed the tightly fitted cuffs. The semi-full skirt and full detachable train were embellished with lace motifs. The appliques were repeated on the melody length veil, secured to a lace headpiece. Her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations, yellow tea roses and baby's breath. Maid of honor was Miss Pat King and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Leon Jourdan, a sister of the groom, and Miss Debbie Saltch, a cousin of the bride. They wore identical gowns of Maize jersey knit designed with V-necklines and enhanced by white lace yokes and long lantern sleeves. Each wore a matching headpiece and held a colonial bouquet of spring blossoms with the bride's breath. Shavna Smith, a sister of the groom, and Amber Jourdan, a niece of the groom, served as flower girls. They were dressed in floral print frocks in yellow, complemented with white eyelet aprons and white hats. They carried bouquets similar to the adult attendants' flowers. The groom chose John Dietrich as his best man, Leon Jourdan, a brother-in-law of the groom, and James Deder, a cousin of the bride, were groomsmen. Escorting the guests to their seats were Dan Pelate, the bride's brother, and Mick McGuire, a cousin of the groom. Miss Brenda Pelate, a cousin of the bride, registered the guests at a reception held at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The groom's parents entertained the wedding party at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville. The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Hospital School of Nursing in Alton and was employed at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City. She now works at St. Mary's Hospital in Centralia, Ill. Her husband is a funeral director trainee at the Swango-Irvin Funeral Home in Centralia.

Mercer nine seeking revenge in road games

The Mercer Mortuary baseball squad of the Illinois Inter-city League will attempt Sunday to avenge its 4-3 season-opening loss to Highland-Pierson when the two teams meet in a 1 p.m. doubleheader on the diamond at Pierson.

Mercer, defending league champion, was decisively here by Highland-Pierson April 27 in a contest that took 11 innings to complete.

Now with a 1-3 record, and two rained-out contests, Mercer will again send veteran hurler Vic Resnack against the Highland batters.

Resnack took the loss in the season opener after relieving starter Mike Stanton in the seventh inning with the score deadlocked at 3-3.

Managed by Granite Cityan Wendell Corey, the Mercer squad enters Sunday's games from a 4-3 loss early this week to new league entry East Alton Fairfax.

Troy leads with a 3-1 record. Fairfax and Highland each have four wins against three losses. Alton's Vana are 3-3, and Panama stands with Mercer at 1-3.

Aurora College soccer awards to Voegelé, Henry

Gary W. Henry, 2208 E. 24th St., and Mark Voegelé, 3168 Aubrey Ave., were among 115 Aurora (Ill.) College athletes honored at the 1975 sports award banquet. Both are freshmen.

Each of the two received a major award for his first year's participation in Spartan soccer from Coach Fred Bornkamp. Henry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garold Henry, and Voegelé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus R. Voegelé, graduated from high school here in 1974. Spartan kickers put together their second consecutive winning season, posting an 8-5 record. The Spartans won six out of their first seven matches before falling prey to injuries. Four straight shutouts were among their victories.

Aurora is an accredited four-year senior college of liberal arts 40 miles west of Chicago. The coeducational college, founded by the Advent Christian Church in 1893, has an innovative curriculum. Aurora students may choose from more than 40 areas of concentration.

'Y' Judo Club competes; junior nationals slated

The Tri-City Area YMCA Judo Club traveled to Decatur last week for the Decatur judo tournament. The meet was run on a black-point system using an eight-man pool.

One hundred and fifty competitions met, most of them in preparation for the Junior Nationals which will be held in Decatur over the July 4 weekend. Larry Schellmann placed third after fighting five times, while Robert Roberts captured fourth place, fighting four times.

Other competitors were John Roberts, Tommy Gann, Tom Bilbrey, Bob Bilbrey, Jo Lynn Roberts, Jerry Birchtler and Lori Malotki.

The judo fighters made the trip under the direction of their coach and "Y" judo instructor, Len Fuchs.

Commenting on the tournament, Fuchs said, "The season is about over for the major portion of the summer. I'm proud of this group; they've done an excellent job. I couldn't have asked for anything more as a coach. And I can say we'll all be better next year."

Profits can produce jobs—Steel Institute

Faced with "indifference and hostility," steelmen must marshal all their skills to help promote understanding by government officials and the public of "fundamental economic truth"—especially the role of profit in investment in promoting jobs and prosperity.

This was the call made by Frederick G. Jaicks, chairman of the American Iron and Steel Institute, at AISI's 83rd general meeting last week in New York.

Jaicks said he was pleased with the industry's "remarkable resilience in adversity."

He was referring to its strong recovery from more than a decade of depressed profitability that he said was caused, in part, by consistent government pressure which held down the steel industry's ability to get a better return on the products it sells.

But he also said he was "highly disturbed" by what he felt was continuing "hostility and indifference" toward business in general and steel in particular.

"Clearly," Jaicks said, "the general public does not understand the public, in Jaicks' opinion, 'understand that higher profits almost inevitably lead to expanding capacity and improving productivity, with a consequent slowing of inflation; nor do they comprehend, in the final analysis, how these heavy economic concepts directly affect them.'"

Jaicks said Congress and news media have a "natural proclivity to examine each problem as if it existed in isolation."

This he said, leads the public to expect that "a patched-up system of federal stop-and-go economic policies is an acceptable substitute for intelligent and consistent application of sound economic thinking — promoting long-range rather than short-term solutions."

Also influencing general attitudes, according to Jaicks, "is a highly vocal and, therefore, highly visible public segment that equates higher profits with corporate greed, and thereby helps to further frustrate the economy."

One place where "the tides of dissatisfaction and misunderstanding continue to run strongly against us," according to Jaicks, is the environmental area.

"To listen to some of the most vocal environmentalists," he said, "one would be led to conclude that we had opted in favor of dirty air and water."

Yet, he continued, the domestic steel industry has about $2.5 billion worth of pollution control equipment in place today — and according to a newly released Arthur D. Little, Inc. study, steelmakers will have to spend up to $14 billion more to comply with projected 1985 environmental requirements.

According to Jaicks, "nothing demonstrates more vividly the proposition that our government was stampeded into passing rash laws, carrying price tags that threaten to strangle our economy" than the evidence contained in the A. D. Little report.

Wm. Woodrome is retiring

William Woodrome Sr., president of Woodrome Oldsmobile, Inc. since establishment in 1959, will retire from active participation in the firm, effective May 31, it was announced this week.

He will be succeeded as president and operator of the firm by his son, William Woodrome Jr. who has been a vice-president of the auto agency for the past eight years.

BURGLARIZE TRAILER

The Rev. Charles Browning, 2514 W. 23rd St., reported someone cut the rear bedroom screen of his house trailer for gain entry and stole an IBM electric typewriter valued at $600, a 12 gauge pump shotgun worth $67 and an $8 alarm clock this week. Rev. Browning reported it was the third time his mobile home has been burglarized.

Jaicks called the report "a valuable tool with which we can hope to convince members of Congress and the Administration that modifications in the air and water laws would be in the nation's best economic interest and could be done without significant damage to environmental progress."

He urged representatives of AISI member companies to familiarize themselves with the report's contents "so that your contacts with local, state and federal officials can provide added support to the efforts being made by the Institute's organized program."

Jaicks said the environment issue is but one of the major issues which "constitute a first mortgage on the future of our industry, that undergirds all other industry."

"If steel can grow to match the needs of all other industries — and thus, of all the people — we can regard the future with optimism."

He noted that the steel industry is among those industries suffering in the current recession.

He said that the industry must sustain its profitability in order to justify future additions to capacity, of which 20 million annual tons have already been announced.

Failure to expand capacity enough, he warned, would result in shortages "far more serious and pronounced than those in the recent past." And shortages, he pointed out, foster inflation.

Jaicks said that he must "reluctantly" agree with those who contend that, generally, businessmen have "done poorly" in advising American consumers that the swiftest way to move the economy back toward full employment is to reduce the government bite out of corporate profits.

He said that the industry has had some successes in helping to shape policy — notably in the new Trade Act.

He also called the recent increase in the investment tax credit from seven to ten percent "another modest move in the right direction."

But, he added, "it hardly gets at the basic concern of a capital-intensive industry which works against a 'lead time' of five years."

Jaicks urged a continued strong effort to obtain Congressional acceptance of the steel industry's proposed tax reforms, which include faster depreciation write-off, immediate full-cost write-off of pollution control expenditures, continued tax assistance in the discovery and production of raw materials, and retention of present foreign tax credits.

On balance, Jaicks said, the industry has succeeded "in opening the door a crack and letting the light of economics shine forth" in public policy.

He feels the industry is "learning how to do this job."

He believes that, if it persists in its present efforts, "the difficult task ahead of this industry may be eased."

"This may happen as Congress and the Administration, with the people looking over their shoulders, come to realize the dimensions of the task — and show at least a belated approval of what we are trying to do for ourselves, for them and for the nation."

The American Iron and Steel Institute chairman is board chairman of Inland Steel Co.

Area man's horse wins show money

A person can't do it, but a horse can. When the horse does it well, as Harold Heiney's, of the Mitchell area, did, it can win cash prizes.

Heiney's 2-year-old foal, Zane's Diamond Head, won $236 during the weekend at a show for the 2-year-olds in Springfield, Mo.

Foxtrotting is a particular gait in which the horse walks with his front legs and trots with his rear ones.

Heiney said 125 horses were entered in the weekend showing. Each horse was judged on its characteristics, its square, flatfoot walk and its foxtrot.

Heiney trained and rode his horse, Zane Grey, which is the son of a world champion foxtrotter from the early 1970s.

Venice seeks Title VII funds

The Title VII Basic LEA (Local Educational Agency) proposal for 1975-76 for Venice Community Unit District 2 has been submitted to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Office of Education, for approval, according to Althea Cross, director of Project MICRO. The three areas of concern are as follows:

1. Need to raise the reading achievement levels of district students.
2. Need to increase the mathematics achievement levels of district students.
3. Need for improvement in the area of human relations and communication among the staff, the students, and the community.

A pilot project under Title VII for 1975-76 which was submitted to the Office of Education deals with a need to prevent students from being dropouts and/or academic failures by raising their average daily attendance to their assigned classes and by aiding them in forming and working toward career goals. The panel reviews of the programs submitted for 1975-76 are now being conducted. There is every possibility to believe that the grantees should be awarded in June regarding funding.

'Misleading' data is delaying dam project

Statements by railroad officials presented before Congressional appropriation subcommittees in Washington, D. C. on the proposed navigation locks and dam on the Mississippi River near Alton have been labeled misleading by the Waterways Journal, a marine publication published weekly in St. Louis.

Construction of new locks and dam 26 miles south of the present dam has been halted in a suit brought in United States District Court, in the District of Columbia, by a coalition of the Sierra Club, the Izaak Walton League and 21 railroads that are members of the Association of Western Railroads.

The Waterways Journal said during the weekend that although railroads say that Locks 26 would increase barge traffic, there is no way a navigation lock could "generate" traffic.

The new locks would only expedite the increased traffic which will come on the river because of increased population and industrial growth, it is contended.

Delays in building Locks 26 will result in higher costs to shippers, and ultimately consumers, because of ever-increasing traffic delays at the old and antiquated locks at Alton, it is asserted.

Railroads also claim that construction of locks and dam 26 would result in a decrease in freight handled by railroads, therefore causing the financial difficulty. The Waterways Journal said there is no indication that traffic now handled by rails would divert to the waterways.

Since U. S. Department of Transportation projections for 20 years, ending in 1990, indicate a 65 per cent increase in demand for railroad freight carriage, it is difficult to see how the railroads would be hurt by building of the new dam, the publication says.

A new study on marine transportation made by the Chicago consulting firm of A. T. Kearney shows that in 1970 all types of water transportation—including that on the Great Lakes and inland waterways—carried 17.6 per cent of the country's freight and earned 2.3 per cent of freight revenue.

In contrast, the Kearney report reveals, rails carried 82.1 per cent of the traffic and earned 14 per cent of the nation's freight bill.

It would appear, The Waterways Journal contended, that truck transportation surpassed all of the other modes; trucks carried 34.2 per cent of the freight and earned 31.3 per cent of the revenue.

"It seems strange," The Waterways Journal continued, "that the rails would go to so much trouble to capture only 2.3 per cent of the total revenue from the nation's freight carriage."

"Another study, made by the American Truck Association for the year 1973, indicates that inland waterways alone—not including inter- and intra-coastal operations by deep-sea vessels—gets only 1.26 per cent of freight revenues.

"There are other pertinent statistics. For instance, a comparison of the miles from which the two modes can generate traffic shows that the 21 railroads intervening in the suit against Locks 26 had, at last report, 130,673 miles of track from which to draw traffic.

"This compares to only 11,300 miles of improved waterways in the entire United States, 6,634 miles of which parallel the railroads that entered the suit.

"Four of the railroads in this suit are directly competitive with the waterways system, these being the Illinois Central (Chil. Louisville and Nashville), Missouri Pacific and the St. Louis-San Francisco (Frisco) lines.

"Despite this water competition, Interstate Commerce Commission figures show that from 1960 to 1971 the ton-miles carried by these river valley railroads rose by 33.2 per cent while those of other Class One railroads increased only 25.2 per cent.

"The freight revenue of the four river valley railroads increased 82.8 per cent in comparison with an increase of only 45.8 per cent for all other Class One railroads in the U. S.

"Statements have been made by some railroad officials that the serious financial condition experienced by the Penn Central railroad system in the East was due to the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, which drained off traffic the Penn Central handled.

"Figures developed by the Toledo-Lucas County (Ohio) Port Authority show this statement is 'inaccurate.' Seaway traffic increased 27 million tons between 1959 and 1973, but traffic handled by the East Coast ports increased by 54 million tons.

"Much of this traffic moved inland from the East Coast by railroad, including the Penn Central.

"Railroad statements on the St. Lawrence Seaway were made to refute the claim that waterways complement the railroads that run along the waterways.

"In fact, plants locate on the waterways so they can get raw materials and fuel at a lower cost through water transportation, but at the same time they send out manufactured goods at high freight rates by rail or truck.

"The Waterways Journal has always contended that the United States needs a healthy transportation system with all modes, including the barge lines, railroads, trucks, air lines and pipelines handling their own particular type of freight in the most efficient manner.

"But," the publication says, "it is not in the public's interest for one mode to attempt to limit the capacity of another, such as the railroads are attempting to do by stopping the construction of a new locks and dam 26 facility."

S. Illinois Police Chiefs meet in GC

Police Chief George Graves of Weston Springs, president of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police, was guest speaker Thursday evening at the May dinner meeting of the Southern Illinois Police Chiefs Association at Charlie's.

More than 40 members and guests attended the dinner and program.

Chief Graves discussed current legislation affecting law enforcement agencies and gun control bills now pending in the Illinois General Assembly. A general question and discussion period followed his remarks.

Chief of Police Herman Blackaby of Jerseyville, Southern Illinois association vice president, conducted the business session.

Among the items reviewed were ongoing training programs for police officers financed with a grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission. The program funds are released and accredited through the Illinois Police Training Board.

The current 40-hour lecture-classroom series starts this week in St. Clair County, it was reported. The same training program will commence June 23 at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn under the Madison County training schedule.

Police officers enrolled in the training series attended classes each weekday for an eight-hour period with their respective city-reimbursed 50 per cent for salary and expenses while the officer is away from regular duty.

Four Granite City officers were enrolled in the last training course and earned college credits.

The Southern Illinois Police Chiefs Association will hold its next meeting in the latter part of June at Centralia.

Members will spend the day at the Centralia Rod and Gun Club. Shoot and trap shooting is planned together with a barbecue and business session.

Performances will be given in the Communications Building theater at 8:15 each evening.

Tickets for the event are $5 and are available in the music office located in Room 010 of the Communications Building. Funds derived from the benefit concert will provide scholarships for music majors attending the University.

The performance will begin with the University Symphony Orchestra and the Concert Chorus playing Bruckner's Psalm 150 and continue with Kodaly's Psalmus Hungaricus by the University Symphony Orchestra, the University Chorus and the Community Choral Society.

Following a short intermission, Beethoven's Concerto No. 5 in E-flat for Piano and Orchestra will be performed.

Miss Slenczanska, artist-in-residence at SIUE, has made more than 3,000 concert appearances and has recorded over 100 compositions.

Small Business Week observed

Area merchants this week are observing Small Business Week during which residents have been urged by Mayor Paul Schulz to share "a solemn pride in the great achievements of our small businessmen and women."

In a statement, proclaiming the week, Mayor Schulz said: "Throughout this great nation, small business represents a very large part of our economy. Small enterprises make up 95 per cent of all businesses, produce more than 45 per cent of the gross business product, and provide more than half the business employment."

"As our free enterprise system's gateway to opportunity, small business is very definitely the backbone of our country. We should all remember the colonial traders and merchants who helped start America on the road to success two centuries ago. These new small business pioneers have been replaced by all kinds of 20th century small entrepreneurs who are leading us into a promising and exciting future."

"It is certainly fitting that we take time each year to honor our small business community. Now, therefore, I Paul Schulz, mayor of the city of Granite City, do hereby designate the week beginning May 25 as Small Business Week. I urge all the citizens of Granite City to share with me during this week a solemn pride in the great achievements of our small businessmen and women and in the contributions they have made to our free way of life."

A new series of art prints from the Lewis and Clark Library System headquarters will be available at GCPL during the first part of June. These art prints may be checked out until September.

Telephone directories for several major cities in the U.S., plus Montreal and Mexico City, are now part of the reference collection. Others will be added soon. Suggestions by patrons for directories not in the collection will be considered.

Reference question of the week: Where and when was Memorial Day first observed. Answer: Waterloo, New York, has been legally established as the birthplace of Memorial Day. The first observance was on May 5, 1866; two years later, the day was changed to May 30.

NEW ITEMS: Richard Adams, first novel, "Watership Down," was a number one bestseller. His second novel, "Shardik," is a fantasy, centering on the long-awaited reincarnation of the gigantic bear Shardik and his appearance among the Ortelgan people.

Shardik, a dangerous, huge and mysterious animal, appears among the half-barbaric Ortelgans.

Kelderek the hunter, who discovers the bear and saves its life, proclaims Shardik to be sacred Messenger of God.

The authors of "Number Games to Improve Your Child's Arithmetic," Abraham B. Hurwitz, Arthur Goddard and David T. Epstein, present a fresh approach to arithmetic by making use of a child's joy in playing games.

The authors enumerate over a hundred classroom-tested games with numbers at the elementary level that a child will enjoy playing with his parents and friends or by himself.

John Upton Terrell and Donna M. Terrell have written a comprehensive study of the North American Indian woman at the time of the white man's arrival on the continent, "Indian Women of the Western Morning."

Included among the numerous topics discussed by the Terrells are the daily life of women in various tribes, the complex religious and political power held by the matrilateral Hopi, and the marriage and divorce laws.

Ralph Nader, consumerism's Mr. Big, is the target of journalist Ralph De Toledano's new book, "Hit and Run: The Rise and Fall" — of Ralph Nader. Toledano views Nader in the context of the consumerist movement, the muckraking tradition, and the New Left "onslaught on the nation's values."

Top students honored at South High School

Anne Elaine DeRuntz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James DeRuntz, 2009 Lindell Blvd., was honored as valedictorian of the June 1975 class of Granite City High School South on Tuesday.

Also announced at an annual awards assembly was the salutatorian of the graduating class, Winifred Deborah Freedman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Freedman, 2543 Cleveland Blvd.

Paula Kohl, new student body president for 1975-76, accepted the class flag at the awards assembly. It was raised on the GCHS South flagpole as the school band played.

Miss Kohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kohl, 2346 Rmert Ave., succeeds Michael Siebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Siebert, 3015 Iowa St.

The band played as the seniors marched into the assembly, and Siebert called the gathering to order.

After the pledge of allegiance, the national anthem was sung by Jenny Powderly, accompanied by the band.

Principal James Dumont praised students who have earned recognition through their efforts and accomplishments.

After a ceremony in which Miss Kohl was installed as student body president, with Siebert administering the oath of office, School Board President George E. Moore Sr. spoke.

Supt. B. J. Davis presented the top academic trophies to Miss DeRuntz and Miss Freedman.

Three brothers join Rotary

Three brothers, Daniel, David and Donald Partney, were among eight new members initiated into the Granite City Rotary Club at its Tuesday noon meeting in the YMCA.

Others installed as new Rotarians were Pat Harris, Albert Parsell, Donald Watson, Leon Scroggins and Larry Mangi.

Past President Albert H. Froemling served as the installing officer for the new members.

President-elect Bill Terrell asked the club to think of new ways for community service.

It was announced that the prayer breakfast will be discontinued through the summer, resuming on Wednesday morning Sept. 3.

On dean's list

Barbara Lynn Matson, 55 Janday Lane, is on the Dean's List of Miami University's central campus in Oxford, Ohio.

Miss Matson is one of 1,466 students who earned a 3.5 average (4.0 scale) during the winter quarter.

A six-hour hearing before the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield last week regarding conditions at the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing and the dangers there to vehicular traffic was attended by city officials, Granite Cityans who have been seeking safety improvements and relatives of two youths killed at the crossing in the last two years.

George Filcoff said that the hearing examiner concluded the hearing about 5 p.m. Friday with indications that he will issue an order in the matter as soon as evidence given in Friday's hearing can be studied.

Filcoff said State Rep. Horace Calvo, appearing both as state representative and as an interested party in seeking safety improvements at the crossing, addressed the hearing and then turned over conduct of the proceedings for the petitioners to Filcoff.

Filcoff said witnesses for the proponents of improved safety conditions included Fourth Ward Aldermen, Warren Decatur and City Engineer Monroe Brewer. Brewer testified as to the results of a survey made of train speeds, times of gate operations at the crossing and periods of apparent malfunction of the gates in which the gates were down for long periods of time.

Results of surveys by an IVC staff engineer also were read into the record. Engineers representing the three railroads involved, the Norfolk & Western, Penn-Central and Illinois Gulf Central maintained there is no malfunction of the gates at the West Pontoon Road Crossing.

Complaints of long traffic blockages by lowered gates at the crossing, which induces motorists to go around the gates, followed two traffic deaths during the past year, both caused when drivers drove around the gates which had been lowered for a long period of time.

Petitions for improved safety measures bearing more than 700 names were presented to city officials and the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, resulting in efforts through the Illinois Commerce Commission to improve safety conditions at the site.

Bike-car accident injures youth, 16

Steven W. Adams, 16, of 2222 Adams St., sustained an injury to the right knee, a headache and superficial lacerations to the right thumb at 6:20 p.m. Tuesday when the front wheel of the bicycle he was riding was struck by a passing auto, spilling him into the street.

The youth told police he was riding south in the 1800 block of Cleveland Boulevard when the mishap occurred. The vehicle left the scene. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by his parents and was released after being x-rayed and treated.

National band to be formed

McDonald's restaurants want 102 high school musicians for the corporation's All-American High School Band.

All of the 30,000 U. S. high school band directors have been asked to submit nominations to Paul Lavallo, All-American High School Band director.

The band will play and march in a Thanksgiving Day parade in New York City and in the Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day in Pasadena, Calif. It also will perform at Rockefeller Center in New York and will parade through Disneyland while in California.

Band members will audition for two Paul Lavallo scholarships given annually by the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Mass. The scholarships pay full tuition, room and board.

Lavallo was music director of Radio City Music Hall in New York from 1948 through 1954 and directed his Band of America on NBC radio from 1944 to 1954.

Fire protection bill would have impact on Horseshoe Lake area

The fire protection bill sponsored by State Representative Everett G. Steele, R-Glen Carbon, which has passed the Illinois House of Representatives by a vote of 128 to 6, would affect unprotected areas in the Horseshoe Lake vicinity and such areas as Holiday Shores, Kendall Hills and Moro and Foster Townships, as well as many other parts of Illinois, the sponsor noted this week.

The bill would allow the state fire marshal to arrange coverage for unprotected areas on a voluntary, negotiated fee basis with established fire districts, but excluding municipal departments.

If voluntary agreements cannot be worked out, the fire marshal could assign a district to cover the unprotected areas on an interim basis, with the district being reimbursed for each call at a rate gradually progressing upwards from $250. The property or individual benefited would be responsible for paying the fee.

An election procedure is provided, in which residents of an unprotected area would consider forming their own district, or contracting or joining an existing one.

If successful elections fail, the fire districts assigned by the fire marshal would be relieved of their interim responsibilities for providing service to the unprotected areas.

"Fire protection, or the lack of it," Steele said, "is a serious matter affecting the safety of both lives and property."

"This legislation," he commented, "is an important step forward in solving a critical problem in our district and in many other parts of our state."

The Illinois Senate has not yet acted on the legislation.

Jazz Quartet at Dunbar

The St. Louis Jazz Quartet of the Young Audiences, Inc., performed last week at Dunbar School. The performance was sponsored by the Humanities Program — an aspect of the Humanities Program which is a study of the different types of music in the human experience.

The program served as an introduction to young audiences who have had little exposure to jazz. Beginning with an early African Chant, the audience was introduced to the sound of Gospel and work songs, ragtime, blues, boogie woogie, Dixieland, the big band (swing) era, be bop, cool jazz, progressive and modern jazz, bossa nova, and free form.

The members of the St. Louis Jazz Quartet are Jeanne Trever, vocalist; Edward Nicholson, piano; Terrence Kippenberger, bass; and Charles Payne, drums.

Annual Red Cross dinner June 10

The American Red Cross's Tri-City Chapter will hold its annual dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 10, at the Granite City Army Installation. Robert Hildebrand, chapter chairman, announced.

Brain McDonough, administrator of the Missouri-Illinois Red Cross Blood Center, will be the guest speaker.

Entertainment will be provided by Paul Mabry. Tickets cost $4 each.

Services today

Funeral services were celebrated this afternoon at a Belleville funeral home for Lester E. Weiss, 61, of Belleville, who died Monday at Belleville.

He was a welder at the former American Car and Foundry Co. in Madison. Mr. Weiss is survived by his wife, a brother and a sister.

200 books presented to library at hospital

The Madison Public Library has concluded a book fair, consisting of adult and young adult fiction.

In conjunction with the project, Madison Lions Club President Andy Economy and Madison-Venice Rotary Club President John Blasingame selected 200 books to be given to the St. Elizabeth Hospital library in the name of their organizations. Books on the library shelves are periodically removed, according to Mrs. Louise Lewis, Madison librarian, in order to make room for newer fiction. "This is an excellent move on the part of these organizations, because it means that the books will still be circulated and used in our own area," she commented.

Committee revisions approved

A revision of City Council committee alignments and new committee chairmen who will serve during the 1975-76 fiscal year were approved by the City Council in regular meeting Monday night.

Committee memberships — with three addressees to each committee — were drafted during a meeting of aldermen in the council chambers Sunday. Chairmen of the committees were appointed by Mayor Paul Schuler under a court ruling of several years ago which held that committees should be decided upon by council members and the chairmen named by the mayor.

Major changes in new committees included the switch of Gerald Parnley from the Finance Committee — of which he has been chairman — to chairmanship of the City Hall and Special Sewer Committee and membership on the Police and Negotiating Committees. The Finance Committee retains two of its former members, Aldermen Frank Greenwald and Ronald Coleman, with Coleman named as chairman. The newly appointed third member of that committee is Alderman Roy Poulos, who also continues as chairman of the Ordinance Committee.

No change was effected in the Ordinance Committee, with Poulos as chairman and Aldermen Earl Baker and Steve Basarich as members. The Street and Alley Committee will be made up of Aldermen Clyde Boyd, as chairman, and Aldermen R. E. Robertson and Emerald Dawes. Boyd served during the past year as chairman of this committee, with Robertson as a member. Dawes replaces former Alderman Claude Green who retired from office this year.

As chairman of the Special Sewer Committee, Parnley replaces Aldermen Walter Norn who sought to resign from that chairmanship when he was appointed last year. Norn was not returned to the committee which now includes Greenwald and Dawes. Dawes also is a new member of that committee.

Other new council committees, with the first named as chairman, include: Police-Morale, Coleman and Parnley; Fire and Water, Baker, Warren Decatur and Morben; Light, Basarich, William Dallas, and Baker; Negotiating, Decatur, Parnley and Greenwald; Intergovernmental, Norn, Whitmer and Boyd.

Planning and Zoning, Dallas, Coleman and Davort; Air Pollution, Greenwald, Baker and Norn; Pollution Plant, R. E. Robertson, Boyd and Morben; Special Sewer, Parnley, Dawes and Greenwald; Traffic, Sam Whitmer, Decatur and Morben; City Hall, Parnley, Poulos and Whitmer; Sanitation, Dallas, Coleman and Basarich, and City Buildings, Dawes, Norn and Whitmer.

Initiated into honor society

Three Granite City men have been initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, an academic freshman honor society, at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

Duane Atchley, 14 Mercer Drive, Paul Becherer, 311 Clark Ave., and John Haynes, 2003 Lindell Blvd., are among the 200 initiated, having earned at least a 4.5 grade point average out of a possible 5.0 in 1974-75.

Phi Eta Sigma at UIUC sponsors a free tutoring service for freshmen and contributes to national fellowships for a year of graduate study.

MALAMUTE STOLEN

An Alaskan Malamute valued at $125 was stolen from the home of Mrs. Janet Vaughn, 2517 Edison Ave., she reported during the weekend. The 7-month-old female dog is wolf grey and white wearing a red collar and was tied to the garage when taken from the above address.

The ministers were cited as playing a key role in the publication of a monthly

Recalls changing eras in politics, steel and music

Steelmaking, politics and music have dominated the life of Andrew J. Parks, 33, of Granite City, Mo., known as "Mr. Republican" by fellow workers at Granite City Steel, where he retired in 1966. And he has seen major transitions in all of these fields.

Increased mechanization and computerization have evolved in the steel industry, contrasting with manual tasks handled by Parks in the mill's soaking pits after the Iron County, Mo., native moved here in 1922.

He was paid $11 a day to weld pipes, 12 to 15 feet in length. Later, the bar mill gave way to hot strip production equipment, and the handling of fiery steel was done more remotely, rather than by asbestos-clad workers like Parks.

In later years, Parks worked as a millwright, performing maintenance, roll-changing and trouble-shooter duties on the cold mill.

When the veteran Republican precinct committeeman first became active here, his party held all Madison County offices and the East Side Levee District board.

He witnessed a profound change during the Franklin D. Roosevelt presidential tenure and the recovery from the 1930s economic depression.

Although aware that many people became Democrats because they blamed Republican President Herbert Hoover for the depression, Parks was never tempted to change parties, remaining convinced there had been factors beyond Mr. Hoover's control.

MR. AND MRS. ANDREW J. PARKS

Parks in 1948 ran for a position on the levee board and also has gained nomination for countywide elective office. But Democrats are in firm control and he sees no prospect for an immediate reversal.

"Money" is the key to an eventual Republican comeback here, he believes. And infusions of campaign funds are difficult to attract as long as the party's registration is so small and its victory prospects so dim, he comments.

Skilled in playing a five-string banjo, Parks performed for many years with the Granddaddy Jones six-member instrumental group. Its radio shows at one time numbered four a day — 15 minutes on WEW, a rush to WKW for another 15 minutes, a third 15-minute program on KSD and then a return to WEW for 30 minutes.

Such "live" performances have been replaced by recorded music but Parks retains an interest in music. He recalls playing for many square dances in Granite City.

In his "spare time," he also served as a state race track inspector for a number of years at Fairmount and Cahokia Downs, helping total and verify receipts.

His eight brothers are deceased but two of his three sisters are living, residing in the Salem, Mo., area. His daughter is Mrs. Dixie Griffin of Granite City and he has a granddaughter.

Parks and his wife, Julia, are members of Trinity United Methodist Church and will observe their 40th wedding anniversary there with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Although the 53-year local resident has reduced his activities, he is involved in the Mobile Meals program, taking hot meals to the aged.

His total employment of 43 years at Granite City Steel included long service as a grievance committeeman for United Steelworkers Local 67, plus participation on the labor-management safety committee.

One of his hobbies for many years has been waxing of autos, a change of pace that helps him relax and remain in robust health.

Schools, some offices to be closed Friday

Quad-Cityans will mark their second holiday of the week on Friday as schools and city, county and state offices close in observance of Memorial Day. The shutdown is not expected to be as complete as that on Monday when most retail stores, banks and financial institutions shut down to observe the same holiday.

The split holiday results from a federal law moving some holidays to the Monday following the actual date to provide a three-day weekend for workers. Illinois, however, does not recognize the federal date and observes the event on the regular date May 30.

As a result, closing tomorrow will include the Illinois State Employment Service, the driver's license examining bureau and the workmen's compensation office.

School districts in the Quad-City area also marks the holiday on the May 30 date and will be closed tomorrow.

and was a candidate for president of the nationwide group of young men.

The jury then took 30 minutes Tuesday to arrive at the $7 million figure, awarding $1 million to his parents and $6 million to his wife.

After reaching the legal conclusion on liability, the jury heard testimony about past and future medical costs growing out of the accident and the loss of potential future earnings by the youth.

Witnesses included W. P. "Mick" Strange of Madison, vice-president of the Cahokia Motor Boy Scout Council and leader of Explorer Post 10-4.

Testimony on the care needed for young Hooks, now a quadriplegic for life, was Mrs. Barbara Madison of Venice, a licensed practical nurse familiar with the type of care that Hooks will need for the rest of his life.

When Hooks dove off a nine-foot board into eight feet of water, he suffered a broken neck and severe damage to the cervical cord in the neck area resulting in his head on the bottom.

The youth was required to remain in George Washington Hospital in the nation's capital for 3 1/2 months before he was able to be transported to St. Louis.

Here he spent another 84 months at the Jewish Hospital. He is still required to go regularly to the Jewish Hospital for examinations.

"I am not sure just how this will affect me," Hooks told the Press-Record.

"I intend, when and if the money does come, to put it in United States savings bonds and long-term certificates of deposits."

"I have my whole life to look out for, so I intend to avoid any treatment other than with the federal government. If U.S. bonds are no good, then nothing else will be either."

"I also intend to continue my education until I have earned at least a master's degree, before even thinking about any type of business."

Elmer Zilkken dies at 49

Elmer M. Zilkken, 49, of 2921 Stotago Ave., died at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Missouri Pacific Hospital, St. Louis.

Born in Detroit, Mich., he resided here 17 years.

He was a member of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church and a veteran of World War II.

His wife, Mrs. Mary Lou Zilkken, died in 1966.

Survivors include one son, Michael T. Zilkken of Melville, Mo.; four daughters, Mrs. Howard (Cheri) Pinkerton and Miss Rebecca Zilkken, both of Granite City, Mrs. Edward (Nancy) Lawson of Marion,

He earned the Ph.D. degree from Michigan State University in 1963. His dissertation concerned the Nixon-Kennedy television debates.

He was a leader of a seminar on the future of mass communications, held at the University of Tampere in Finland in 1969, and was a participant in an international seminar in Mass Communications held in Salu, Yugoslavia, in the summer of 1971.

News notes

A June 1 deadline has been set for entries in a Bi-centennial essay contest on "What is the Spirit of '76'?" Essays of 150 to 200 words may be submitted by students through public and parochial schools to the Illinois secretary of state.

June 1 is the first date that second division vehicles may display 1976 fiscal year license plates.

Deadline for such display is June 30.

George Earnecke, staff director of the Committee to Study the Illinois Property Tax, will address the Madison County Township Officials Association tonight at 7:30 in the County Board room of the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville.

An electric car made by Vanguard Corp., Sebring, Fla., is being placed on display at Matthews Chevrolet, Granite City. The two-passenger car can be charged by any 110-volt household electrical outlet and it cruises at 38 miles an hour and has a range of 50 miles. The exterior resists corrosion, and it is estimated that the vehicle uses one cent of electricity per mile.

An Edwardsville girl, 15, abducted at gunpoint at a busy intersection there at 5 p.m. Tuesday, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital after being raped and escaping from a rural area on Bluff Road near the Route 157-Interstate 270 junction. A man with reddish brown shoulder-length hair is being sought. He is in his early 30s and is about 5'6" in height.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board approved an agreement Wednesday under which the Regional Commerce and Growth Association will coordinate research information, cooperate on mutual projects and exchange information.

The Illinois House yesterday approved a $50,000 subsidy to the Mississippi River Festival summer concert series. The Illinois Senate by a 46-1 vote sent Gov. Daniel Walker a bill guaranteeing Monroe and St. Clair Counties representation on the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority board.

The Illinois Senate yesterday passed a bill doubling inheritance tax exemptions, but rejected allowing senior citizens to defer paying property taxes until after death.

Speculation is centering on former State's Attorney R. W. Griffith of Alton and Attorney Irvin State Jr. of Granite City as possible associate judge for a position becoming vacant June 30. Circuit judges will decide who gets the $37,500 yearly post.

With owner Gerald Moss as host, a concert was given at the attended Tuesday night's comedy, "My Three Angels," starring Cesar Romero at the Plantation Dinner Theater on 1-270, Mitchell B. Miloski and Fred P. Schuman were praised for encouraging ticket sales; all proceeds will go to construction of a Salvation Army community center here. SA Capt. Ronald Kenley spoke briefly prior to the play.

Neil Hartigan to address planning commission meet

Illinois Lieutenant Governor Neil Hartigan will be the guest speaker at the June quarterly commission meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

The quarterly meeting will be held June 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, Fairview Heights. The quarterly meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission was officially created in 1963 by legislative act to meet the need for advanced planning and coordination of development in Madison and St. Clair Counties. Subsequent acts by the state legislature have added Monroe, Randolph, Bond, and Washington Counties to the commission's area of jurisdiction; legislation in process proposes the addition of Clinton County to the membership, which will thus provide coverage to all of Illinois State Administrative Region IV.

Park pool repairs ordered

The Granite City Park Board last night gave its approval for emergency repairs to the Wilson Park swimming pool on a time-material basis by Triangle Heating Co. of Mitchell.

Originally scheduled to open to the public this weekend, the pool opening now has been delayed because of another main line leak. A tentative opening date has not been set due to heavy rains last night and today which is preventing repair work from being initiated.

The board also authorized the purchase of an additional 90 loads of dirt from C. D. Peters Construction Co. at a cost of $25 per load, to be placed on the ball diamonds at West Granite Park, and authorized $225 for repairs to a water pump used in the Wilson Park flower gardens.

HOUSE BURGLARY
Alan Hampton, 2258 Grand Ave., reported three $20 bills and four $10 bills were taken from his bedroom which was ransacked during the weekend. Witnesses said they saw a man leave the premises in a white Corvette. He apparently gained entrance through a broken bedroom window.

One Granite City girl was admitted and another was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital following an accident at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday in which their car was struck while they were traveling east on Maryville Road by the driver of another car trying to turn into Maryville Road from Morrison Road.

The driver of the first auto, Cindy A. Schwager, 18, of 2497 Waterman Ave., was admitted for observation after her head and chest struck the steering wheel. One of her two passengers, Kathy Thompson, 17, 2548 Waterman Ave., was treated and released.

The other passenger, Karen S. Sarich, 16, of 2559 Waterman Ave., and the driver of the second car, Kevin W. McCormick, Collinsville, were uninjured.

McCormick was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Cyclist hurt

Richard Jones, 16, of 63 Parktowne West, was in the intensive care unit at St. Elizabeth Hospital this morning for treatment of injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

The youth suffered a hematoma to his forehead, cuts on his left jaw and chin and bruises on his right knee.

Nab robbery

Advising the victims not to call the police, the holdup men then left the tavern and apparently walked or ran toward an alley between the tavern building and a drive-in restaurant next door.

Madison and Granite City police officers were nearby at the time of the holdup, having been informed that an armed robbery was planned about the same time at another business firm.

After hearing a radio message about the tavern holdup, the officers searched the area, finding that the holdup men ran across 14th Street, through a yard and down the alley bordering Granite City Steel property. At this point, however, the men were not located.

Madison detectives patrolling in the area of Market and Ewing streets at 11:40 last night, observed a taxi parked in front of 13 Garces Homes and saw a man knocking on the door.

One detective walked past the cab to a parking area. The second officer drove along the street and recognized one man in the rear seat of the taxi as Hutchinson.

As the officers approached the cab, which was occupied by four men, Hughes walked toward the vehicle from the apartment and was ordered to halt and lie on the ground. Hutchinson got out of the cab and also was told to lie on the ground, authorities said.

The Madison officer said he shot into the air with his service weapon when he believed one man was reaching toward his waist. The other occupants of the taxi were ordered to get out and lie face down on the pavement. One man, wearing a red, white and blue baseball cap, used a passing auto as cover and ran across the street and away from the area. Later, he was found at the Madison police station, officers said.

Another man began crawling along the sidewalk and a second shot was fired by a detective, who ordered the man to lie still. Granite City, Venice and other Madison officers then converged on the scene.

An automatic pistol was found beneath the front seat of the vehicle and a black tee-shirt was recovered from the ground near where one man was lying, the report stated.

Other than Hutchinson and Hughes none of the other occupants of the taxi were arrested. Each was questioned and released.

Gala installation for Business Women

An international atmosphere commemorating "International Women's Year," which highlighted the annual installation of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club last week, was created with entertainment and colorful decorations.

The dinner, attended by more than 200 members and guests, was held in the dining room adjacent to the central patio area at the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Rosemary Baseden, a senior supply specialist in the International Logistics Division of the U. S. Army Aviation Materiel Command, was installed as president.

Miss Fiedla Doolin of Carbondale, newly-elected first vice-president of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, was the installing officer.

As part of the impressive ceremony, Miss Doolin focused her remarks on "Hands," noting the many ways that hands are used — "to emphasize friendship, to pray, to seal a bargain, or take an oath."

"This is a time of achievement: of growth and development. Service in today's society can be offered in a manner following the tradition of Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Blackwell or Catherine Beecher," Miss Doolin said. In response, Mrs. Baseden commented, "As an extension of the efforts of our pioneering ancestors I dedicate and devote the next year to this club."

"Never Walk Alone," the favorite song of Mrs. Baseden, was presented by Mrs. Shirley Adams, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Valerie Stevens at the piano.

The two club members also sang and played "More" in honor of Miss Annellen Smith, the retiring president.

Miss Smith expressed appreciation to the membership and especially those "officers and chairmen who have worked so hard to make this a great year."

She called attention to the handmade candles and colorful flowers, noting "they were handmade in Mexico and hand-carried home by me."

Miss Smith and Mrs. Baseden wore attractive lace gowns in red and pink, respectively. The gowns were purchased in Mexico City, where they attended the Congress of Business and Professional Women of the Americas' convention in March.

A basket was made by Mrs. Emylee Alford, a club member, to hold the colorful floral display, Miss Smith said. In conclusion she remarked — "Remember, man's toil is not what he gets for it, but what he becomes by it."

Other officers installed, who will lead the Granite City BPW Club in 1975-76, are:

Mrs. Sylvia Wright, president-elect; Mrs. Lorene Sadrakul, first vice-president; Mrs. Lois Wetton, second vice-president; Mrs. Barbara Wyatt, recording secretary; Mrs. Judith McCann, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Elvira Thurber, treasurer; and Mrs. Barbara Hodges, Mrs. LaVelle Stephens, Mrs. Maude Chilton, Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, Mrs. Genevieve Haddix, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Stevens, board members.

Miss Smith presented a pair of "Niki" bookends by the club and several gifts from her family and friends. An original poem, entitled "That's Our Annie," was read by Mrs. Vera Farrow.

Members of the retiring president's family and friends attending the banquet, included Jim and Shirley Smith; Michelle Ann Smith; Dottie Krupa; Mary Etta Blanke, Vera Schilleberger; Florence Horner, Vera Scott and Helen Todd.

Mrs. Baseden received a bouquet of American Beauty roses from her husband, Howard H. Baseden. Family members and friends introduced, included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baseden, Godfrey; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baseden, Belhallow; Mrs. Eva Tontin, Hickman, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Len Baseden, Mrs. Catherine Horner, Mrs. Naomi Randall and Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Bradford, all of Granite City.

The new president announced Mrs. Ruth Walk as reservations chairman, a new post created for 1975-76, and chairman of the annual Christmas party.

Marks 30th year with utility

Gustave E. Lignoul, an Illinois Bell communications maintenance man, is observing his 30th anniversary with the Bell System.

A native of St. Louis, Lignoul began his three-decade telephone career with Southern Bell in East St. Louis in 1945 as a framer in the company's plant department. He assumed his current post in Granite City in 1947.

A graduate of Granite City High School, Lignoul served with the U.S. Army from 1946 to 1947. He is a member of the Cahokia Council, Telephone Pioneers of America, the world's largest industrial employee organization dedicated to community service. In his leisure time he enjoys bowling and fishing.

He and his wife, Joyce, live at 2801 Fortune Drive. They have two sons, Gus D. and John, and a daughter, Mrs. Jennifer Comoly.

Graduation talk by former local faculty member

Peggy Irene Pavlinin, an instructor at Lincoln Land Community College in Springfield and a former Granite Cityan, will deliver the commencement address for the Crab Orchard Community Unit School District in Marion on Monday, June 2.

Mrs. Pavlinin, a 1948 graduate of Crab Orchard High School, has taught literature and composition at Lincoln Land since 1970 and has served as chairwoman of the college's humanities division since 1973.

She earned a bachelor of science in education degree from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale in 1952 and received a master of arts degree from SIU at Edwardsville in 1966.

Prior to joining the Lincoln Land faculty, she taught English and speech in the Rochester and Granite City school systems.

Mrs. Pavlinin is the daughter of Mrs. Mabel Beasley and the late Ernest Beasley of Rural Route Two, Marion.

She and her husband, Michael, now reside in Springfield with two of their children, James Russell and Lisa Marie. Another son, Michael Jon, attends Western Illinois University in Macomb.

AUTO FOUND ON FIRE

A 1969 auto owned by Robert Fisk Jr., 2530 Parkway Drive, Apt. 5, reported stolen from the apartment parking area at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday, was found on fire a short time later on Bend Road by Madison County Sheriff's deputies.

State board wants new schools constructed in East St. Louis

The State Board of Education on Thursday toured East St. Louis Schools and then returned to the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus to face a full agenda, including a report on East St. Louis.

During the regular semi-monthly meeting, the board voted unanimously to ask the Capital Development Board and other state officials to assist with "the urgent need to construct new school facilities in East St. Louis."

State School Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin, who made East St. Louis the first stop on his statewide tour of schools after he became superintendent in January, led the board through the Stale and Jefferson schools, pointing out the four Jefferson classrooms declared unfit for children several weeks ago by the state education office.

Assistant Supt. Richard Small later told the board that 13 of the district's school buildings are unsafe and need to be replaced.

Cronin said he had assigned 12 staff members to work on the problems of East St. Louis indefinitely.

In addition, he said, a second team of urban school experts will spend two full days visiting East St. Louis to help area state and county school officials restore stability.

The school district is presently being run by Superintendent of Education Service Region Lester Ruester, who assumed control after four of the seven school board members were convicted in an extortion and racketeering case.

The state education board gathered at the SIUE student center at the invitation of W. Deane Wiley, dean of the SIUE college of education. Dr. Wiley was the state board's executive secretary before a state superintendent was appointed.

The board's agenda included consideration of a wage and salary scale for Illinois Office of Education employees, as well as a proposal for a six per cent cost-of-living increase for employees below the level of assistant superintendent.

The board asked that salaries of assistant superintendents and above be re-evaluated to determine if a cost-of-living increase is needed.

The board also directed Dr. Cronin to proceed with reorganization of the structure and services of the state education agency.

The long-range reorganization plan includes:

- (1) Improved services to local school districts by providing a stronger and more dispersed field services operation.
- (2) Clarity and simplicity in the central staff organization of the Illinois Office of Education through consolidation of presently fragmented functions.
- And (3), a more equitable distribution of personnel around the state.

The board also asked that a positive effort toward "affirmative action" be exerted in the reorganization.

The board's next meeting will be June 12 in Chicago. On June 26, the board will meet in Macomb, home city of state board member Sam Guzzardo.

July dam hearings

By GARY KERBEL
Press-Record Staff Writer

The fate of the proposed new Alton Locks and Dam may be decided this summer, when the U.S. Senate Public Works Committee holds hearings on a nationwide public works bill.

The committee said it would probably study a bill in July to authorize the $383 million facility, which would replace the present deteriorating lock and dam two miles to the north.

Sens. Adlai Stevenson III (D-Ill.) and Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) jointly introduced the Senate bill.

Stevenson said his move was prompted by the House's refusal Thursday, by a 170 to 168 vote, to put Congress on record authorizing the construction. There had been earlier Senate approval. House opponents denied approval of the project to wait for a second environmental impact statement.

A Washington federal court has banned the project until it is clearly authorized by Congress. If approved, Dam and Locks 26 would be the largest construction job in this region.

The Army Corps of Engineers has designed the facility to expedite shipping on the Mississippi River.

Area railroads and environmental groups oppose the project. Stevenson said the locks and dam might drive some railroads into bankruptcy.

Environmental groups have voiced fear that the Corps of Engineers plan to restructure the Mississippi's navigation system north of St. Louis. Proponents of new facilities cite long delays for vessels clearing through at Alton.

THEFT FROM CAR

I-270 sign, rail bidding

Traffic sign modernization is planned along Interstate 270 from the Mississippi River, eastward through the Quad-Cities and to the interchange with Interstates 55-70.

Also scheduled is modification of the roadside safety and steel beam guardrail on I-270 from a point east of the river, easterly to Ill. Rt. 158.

And there will be patching, waterproofing and resurfacing of 13 bridge decks on I-270 from west of Glen Carbon to northwest of Troy.

The Illinois Department of Transportation said during the weekend that these projects are part of the largest bid letting in the department's history Tuesday, June 10.

The letting has 168 highway, waterway and airport improvement projects throughout the state valued at $165 million.

The previous record letting was worth $132 million and was held in August 1974. Prior to the 1974 letting, a June 1971 letting worth $151 million was the record high.

The June 10 letting is the fourth regularly scheduled letting of 1975. The next letting will be July 22.

Highway District Eight motorist aid system maintenance is the subject of one of the June 10 bids.

It will include maintaining the call box system for a 12-month period on I-55, between I-70, I-270 and Ill. Rt. 203; on I-70, between I-55, I-270 and Ill. Rt. 143; and on I-270, between the Missouri side of the Mississippi River bridge and the I-55-70-270 intersection.

Also scheduled for June 10 bids are:

U. S. 67 — Remove and replace the bridge navigation lighting system on the Clark Bridge over the Mississippi River from Madison County (Alton area) to St. Charles County, Mo.

At the I-70 and Ill. Rt. 111 interchange, furnished and install a highway lighting system.

Light the I-70 interchanges with Ill. Rt. 4 southwest of Marine, with Ill. Rt. 143 southeast of Marine and with U.S. Rt. 40 northeast of Highland.

District Eight painting — Clean and paint the structural steel on 19 bridges on various routes in Madison-St. Clair Counties.

Also in District Eight — thermoplastic pavement marking on various routes.

Court efficiency study also needs to consider the public

The court services issue raised at Monday night's Granite City Council session recalls discussions years ago in which some members of the Third Judicial Circuit sought to justify consolidating court activity at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville.

The previous outcome was to provide the widest range of services at the Courthouse but to continue a substantial number of court functions at the two largest concentrations of population — the Alton area and the Quad-Cities. By their nature, these two areas generate the vast majority of court cases of all kinds; it is people who require and cause judicial processes, far more than geographic place or other factors.

Administration of the courts is a complex matter and there obviously are advantages to scheduling much of the activity at a single site like the county seat.

Judges, clerks, lawyers, juries, witnesses, plaintiffs and defendants constitute large groups which have to be fitted into an intricate schedule at considerable cost. It would be hard to over-emphasize the importance of their collective efforts to the successful functioning of our democratic way of life.

This having been said, there is still much to be said for sometimes bringing government to the people rather than people to their government.

In simplest terms, it is much easier for everyone if a judge goes to where all of the other participants happen to reside, rather than forcing all of them to come to him.

The lack of public transportation between Edwardsville and the Alton and Quad-Cities areas underscores this point, particularly in an era of energy shortages and escalating fuel costs. President Ford's announcement of Tuesday evening regarding a second $1-a-barrel tariff on imported oil is expected to lead to another rise in gasoline prices.

As was noted by City Council members here this week, the place for policemen — especially during the current widespread concern for law enforcement — is in their home community, not spending hours traveling and waiting for the disposition of cases in which they are the arresting officer.

An "increase in efficiency" has been cited as the principal reason for the plan to sharply reduce local court services.

Many Quad-Cityans agree that efficiency is a valid consideration, but they earnestly ask the Third Judicial Circuit to seek that goal in broad rather than narrow terms.

The convenience of the public is not wholly irrelevant or immaterial in the determination of court efficiency.

New explanation for train to delay autos at crossing

An additional definition of "adding insult to injury" is afforded by a development at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing.

Plagued for years by long delays at various crossings, Quad-City motorists now are perplexed by the apparent decision of a four-man Norfolk & Western railway crew to stop for breakfast at the International House of Pancakes.

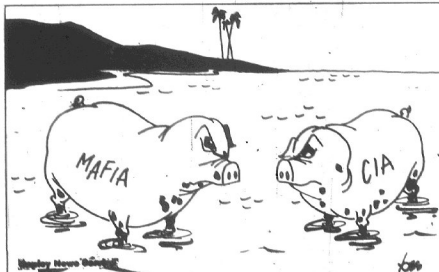

No doubt it was a tasty meal, but their choice of a "parking place" for their unattended train has to be considered a bit unusual — the always busy West Pontoon crossing.

Auto traffic here seemed destined to be delayed not only through the appetizer, toast and coffee, but through the bacon and eggs as well. Granite City police appropriately intervened and issued arrest summons.

As a cartoon character might summarize the episode: "Good grief!"

ANOTHER DAY OF RGS

Assembly omitttees find that time is their enemy

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — A few years ago it took 15 minutes to get a bill through many legislative committees started later than their scheduled time; the meetings attracting public interest were held in rooms no longer than a broom closet, and the witnesses were generally disregarded.

Rules requiring the public posting of bills scheduled for a hearing were suspended because of time limitations, the legislators were sometimes rude to witnesses who had traveled from Chicago or elsewhere to testify (they might be given five minutes to discuss a complex subject which took hours to prepare) and often the chairmen of the committees who never before allowed a bill to be introduced without first having been discussed by the committee.

But there has been much discussion about reform in the legislature. There are 23 representatives who never before allowed a bill to be introduced without first having been discussed by the committee.

The House Judiciary Committee seemed like a good place to start because at 2 p.m. they were scheduled to hear one bill dealing with legalization of marijuana and another to abolish the death penalty in Illinois.

At two o'clock the witnesses were present, but the House was still in session in chambers.

At 2:30 the chairman, Rep. Harold Katz, D-Glenview, announced that persons who wanted to speak on the bill should fill out witness slips. The sponsor of the marijuana legislation, Rep. Leland Rayson, D-Tinley Park, arrived.

"If you think this is bad," one reporter says when we mention the subject of the column, "you should see them at eight in the morning. The members who show up on time want to kill the bills sponsored by the members who are late."

At 2:45 while many eat their lunch, the roll is called. The chairman says the members of the committee do not have copies of the bill, and he asks that copies be made.

Rep. Joseph Landy, D-Evanston, requests that the House schedule a hearing on the bill to be limited to 20 minutes with a like amount of time for opponents and questions. Rayson does not think that is enough time. They agree on 30 minutes. One representative, Brian Duff, R-Wilmette, says to speed it up because witnesses for the death penalty bill must catch a 6:30 plane.

Then a vote is taken. A motion to pass the bill is defeated. A motion to defeat the bill is also defeated. It's finally decided to send the legislation to a subcommittee. They move to the death penalty bill.

At 8 a.m. the next day the House Appropriations Committee is to meet. One of the 34 bills scheduled for a hearing appropriate money for the proposed airport in Southwestern Illinois. A group calling itself Help Us Save Our Land and Environment is demonstrating against the airport bill, which has been pending since the previous week.

At 8:18 a.m., chairman Thad Lechowicz, D-Chicago, starts the testimony concerning the budget for the secretary of state's office. The meeting appears orderly throughout the morning.

The Senate Public Health, Welfare and Corrections Committee is scheduled to meet in the Senate chambers. Senators return from lunch to find persons attending the hearing sitting at their desks. Sen. Fred Smith, D-Chicago, announces, "We are going to attend to business. Take your conference elsewhere."

Footnote: Legislators have a different perspective on the situation than do observers. From their point of view, they are working late hours to meet their self-imposed deadlines trying to get hearings to 4,449 bills.

Regulations do they worsen energy crisis?

The intensifying energy crisis is worsened by governmental "regulation as a way out of a problem," brought on by regulation in the first place.

So said Henry E. Miller in an address entitled "The Worst of All," presented at the third general meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute in New York in late May.

Miller, who is assistant vice president—engineering and construction, Arco Steel Corporation spoke as chairman of the Institute's recently-created Committee on Energy.

The Institute has "reluctantly supported" de-regulation of wellhead prices for natural gas "because we know there is no alternative in this case," Miller told the meeting.

"Two Presidents of the United States, the Federal Energy Administration, the Environmental Protection Agency, the Federal Power Commission, the Department of Commerce and many others have recommended and urged de-regulation, as the only means to ensure an adequate supply of gas," he said.

Congress seems more interested "in allocating the shortage than in removing the shortage," he asserted.

Other factors aggravating the energy crisis are the technically unimproved demands of extreme environmentalists, the speaker declared.

"As your know, our industry has been in the forefront of the effort in Washington to show the government the stupidity of requiring industry to install energy-intensive equipment to capture fugitive emissions when the production of the electricity creates more pollution at the power plant than we are able to capture at the steel plant."

Miller said the industry has supplied the government with case histories of such excesses.

He outlined a six-point program recommending what he thinks the steel industry should be doing to minimize the effect of the energy shortage, which he sees continuing for many years:

- (1) Increase efforts to achieve de-regulation of "natural gas prices by Congress."
- (2) Tell the story on the cost of present and future environmental regulations. The country has needed the improvements already made or soon available, but there is "a tremendous energy penalty" for the last few percentage points of cleanup, he asserted.
- (3) Intensify and record energy conservation efforts at each steel plant.
- (4) Develop some type of coal gasification, because natural gas and fuel oil, which make up about 25 percent of steel's energy requirements today, will become less and less available.

Expensive though this will be, "when the alternative is shutting down a plant for lack of fuel, the decision makes itself," he said.

(5) Continue the pressure to reduce the impact of scrap because each ton of export steel scrap contains the energy equivalent of about 15 million Btu's of energy. The manufacture of an equivalent amount of metal starting from ore uses much more energy.

(6) Undertake a public information effort — by the Institute and its member companies — to tell steel's energy story at all levels of government and to steelworkers.

Miller concluded that steel should not stop with pleading its own case but should also help explain the situation in the oil and electrical utilities industries, as well as natural gas.

"There is an amazing parallel between all three major energy industries. They are being slowly but surely strangled by over-regulation," he said.

THE BUREAUCRATS

The FORUM Against noise limit on auto races

To the Editor:

The Illinois Pollution Control Board is trying to impose upon the raceways of the state a 61-decibel limitation on noise emissions from auto race courses.

This in itself is discrimination, a matter where you live, there are noise. On my street alone, there is so much noise a person can't even hear the front door open and hear the television.

You stand on the street corner and you can hear more from squealing and speed shifting, and see more black tire marks from cars peeling out than you would experience in one three-hour program at a supervised raceway.

If the Pollution Control Board is allowed to force upon raceways these discriminating rulings, then let these same limitations stand against all sports, such as baseball games, football games, boat races, motorcycle races, etc.

The Pollution Control Board refuses to take a stand against these other sports because of their hazardous nature.

These rulings could cause the raceways throughout Illinois to be closed. This would destroy family recreation, hobbies and livelihoods.

Race fans throughout Illinois stand behind Senator Roger Sommer of the 45th District, who has sponsored Bill 193. It would restrain the Illinois Pollution Control Board from regulating sports events with respect to noise. This bill must be passed without amendment.

Where would the Pollution Control Board rather racing be held? On the city streets, or on a supervised raceway?

Believes pianists being handicapped

To the Editor:

I have been teaching piano in Granite City for over 11 years. Many of my students are pianists for vocal concerts and accompanists for band students.

I have spent many, many hours accompanying band students as they prepared for them to the contests myself.

Recently I asked to use the grand piano at Granite City High School South for a piano recital. They informed me the cost was the same as last year — almost $110 for four hours.

Last year, I had three senior students that gave hour-long concerts, and we were denied the use of the piano.

We have no civic auditorium in Granite City. It is only the kindness of the churches that give pianists in Granite City any opportunity to perform, unless a teacher happens to have a piano.

Several churches now are requiring a rental fee, and more doors are being closed.

A high school vocal teacher asked me to be an accompanist for her production of "South Pacific," and I was happy to do a community service. Imagine my chagrin and surprise when they wheeled out an old, out-of-tune Yamaha spinet for me to play. The grand piano was kept in order.

Now, School Board and officials, please tell me for whose benefit they do this?

If you aren't going to let pianists use it or even the vocal department, why have it?

May I remind the schools that they are not in the civic auditorium renting business, but in education. Duty requires them to make use of the finest equipment for those students.

We taxpayers purchased that piano and we expect at least to have it used for the students' benefit, not for those who can afford the $110 rental.

MARGE ELLSWORTH

Inequity in aid to renters, owners

To the Editor:

Will someone please explain the apparent inequity in payments made by the state in its tax relief grant for senior citizens?

I have paid real estate taxes in Granite City for more than 40 years and am now more than 65 years of age.

I sign up each year for a reduction in tax under the Homestead Act.

Normally, taxes for my property would be about $250 or more. Under the Homestead Act, I receive an approximate reduction of 25%.

I have paid real estate taxes in Granite City for more than 40 years and am now more than 65 years of age.

I sign up each year for a reduction in tax under the Homestead Act.

Investigation by the state would be in order.

State form CB-1365 (N-174) states, "Enter total of Social Security benefits received during the year." The amount entered should be the gross amount of your benefits without any deductions.

It appears a cheater can always be found.

Emphasis on 'justice through law'

To the Editor:

On behalf of the judiciary and the courts of Illinois, I wish to express our sincere appreciation for your cooperation and assistance in the coverage of the Law Day observances on May 1.

While the principles of law are constant, their vitality must be kept alive. The courts must be replanted, cultivated and harvested by every American citizen.

Law Day is that yearly opportunity for each of us to stop and reflect that our system of government is one of law — not of men.

The theme for 1975 was "America's Goal — Justice Through Law." The theme has been greatly enhanced by the excellent support and coverage of Law Day that you and all the media afforded to this fine project. On behalf of the Illinois courts, I express deep gratitude.

MRS. JUDITH RICHARD
State Law Day Chairman for Illinois Courts

Bicentennial era — challenging to steel industries

Three basic challenges face the nation's steel industry as it enters the Bicentennial year, W. E. Mulletstein, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Lukens Steel Co., said at the 1975 general meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute this month.

The three challenges — increasing productivity, rebuilding and expanding steelmaking capacity, and materials and energy — have much in common with those faced successfully by ironmasters during and after the Revolution, Mulletstein said.

Productivity, he told the meeting, includes not only today's steel plants but also "the productivity of our corporate citizenship efforts at the national and international levels."

Drawing historical parallels, Mulletstein said, "The ultimate aim of our entire industry's efforts in these areas should be to create a climate of understanding and cooperation in which our industry — and the society which it serves — can prosper and remain world leaders — a climate that is conducive to pride and excellence of work at every level, increasing productivity in its broadest sense."

Rebuilding and expanding production facilities is primarily a challenge of ingenuity, time and capital, Mulletstein said.

Again, reaching back into the rich historical records of his own company and Colonial ironmaking, he drew parallels with former day when an industry had to be built "that independently could serve the growing nation's needs for iron and steel for tools, ships and rail transportation in the early years that followed the Revolution."

He spoke of the financial need for billions of dollars for further modernization and expansion of plant facilities and to meet environmental standards.

Addressing the third challenge of conserving and developing sources of raw materials and energy, Mulletstein repeated his call for political involvement in the Bicentennial of the Revolution. Ironmasters make the industry's position known relative to natural gas and other minerals.

He then spoke of overseas sources, and suggested the importance of moving "toward positions of interdependence with some of the developing nations."

In conclusion, Mulletstein reminded the steelmakers of the advice given to them in 1965 at a public affairs conference by the then Congressman Gerald Ford, now U.S. President.

"He recommended that we become better acquainted with our representatives, that we work with them and keep them more adequately informed about our industry," Mulletstein noted.

Mulletstein noted that the industry has followed that advice during the past 10 years, and "all of us have benefited." Mulletstein said that, in 1976, the world expected the United States to fail, "and for many years that we have grown in the wearing of the cloak of leadership."

The Bicentennial year may well be the catalyst releasing new effort and greater success, he said.

Asian immigrants flock to America

By EDWARD NEILAN

Former South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, longtime acting chief of state of Cambodia Sihanouk and the nearly 150,000 other Indochinese refugees being resettled in the United States are only part of the story of a 10-year surge in immigration from Asia.

Back in 1965 there were 15,000 legal immigrants from Asia to the United States. Last year there were 105,000. The 10-year total was a whopping 715,377, according to the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The proportion of all immigrants admitted to the United States that came from Asia increased from 5.4 percent in 1965 to 20.9 percent in 1974.

The main reason for the influx was the abolition by the U.S. Congress in 1965 of a quota system that was stacked in favor of immigration from Northern Europe.

What about 1975? To 150,000 from Vietnam and Cambodia, add at least 100,000 immigrants who have already been processed for entry through regular channels; that comes to at least a quarter-million Asians coming to the United States in 1975 alone.

The question of the day for political scientists may be: Why do people still want to come to the "problem-ridden" United States in the face of such "vocalists of social progress" as the People's Republic of China, North Korea, North Vietnam or such Socialist economic hot centers as India, Burma and a dozen others?

The answer is simply that there is opportunity and hope in the United States. More and more people have had exposure to them that Socialist, crypto-Communist and Communist systems are all right for spreading wealth around the globe, but they are not particular standard. But for producing wealth — national or individual — those systems have shown many failures.

The official figures of Asian immigration are only part, probably not more than half, of the story. Illegal Asian immigrants by the thousands pour off merchant vessels in U.S. harbors, melt into Asian communities ashore, secure documentation — the alien's "green card" — required for employment — and then send for their family through official channels.

One recent story was priceless: An immigration officer was checking green cards in a New York Chinatown cafe. "We have no illegal aliens here," he told the owner. "Just then an illegal alien waiter who had been hiding in the space between the false acoustic tile ceiling and the roof crashed through to the floor, landing between the officer and the owner."

In proliferation of Asian restaurants — mainly Chinese — in the United States is in direct proportion to the increased number of immigrants.

Some East and West Coast cities — Washington, D.C. (Chinese) and Torrance, Calif. (Japanese and Koreans) are prime examples — have seen their Asian populations quadruple in the last decade.

In Los Angeles County, there were some 3,900 Koreans counted in 1965. Today there are more than 100,000 Koreans in the county.

Here's a quick list of countries of Asia and the total number of legal immigrants to the United States from each between 1965-74:

Philippines (120,200), China (148,814), Korea (111,914), India (85,580), Japan (42,110), Hong Kong (39,535), Thailand (31,408), Vietnam (17,255), Pakistan (13,932), Indonesia (5,273), Burma (4,839), Malaysia (2,877), Sri Lanka (Ceylon) (2,175), Macao (1,584), Singapore (1,078), and territories (1,302).

By and large, these new Americans from Asia make excellent citizens; they thrive on education.

Dr. Yansen has the highest percentage of Ph.D. degree winners among any minority group in the United States.

By the way, Asians are a relatively silent minority, whose actions — hard work and a deep sense of family — speak louder than words.

Q. How has the standard deduction been changed in the new tax law recently signed by President Ford?

A. First, the minimum standard deduction (low income allowance) has increased from $1,300 per person ($650 for married persons filing separately, $1,600 for a single person and $1,900 for a married person filing separately. Second, the maximum standard deduction has increased from 15 percent of adjusted gross income (AGI) with a maximum of $2,000, or $1,000 for a married person filing separately, to 16 percent of AGI with a maximum of $2,100, or $1,050 for a married person filing separately.

These changes are in effect only for taxable years ending after December 31, 1974, and before January 1, 1976. For most taxpayers the changes affect calendar year 1975 only.

BEFORE REMODELING. the former Helpee-Selfee Coin Laundry at 1601 Pontoon road was becoming unsightly. The building was remodeled by Bob Barton and Gerald Thebeau with considerable support and aid from the community.

FULLY REDECORATED. the former coin laundry now houses a beauty shop and has room for offices. Bob Barton, a realtor, cited the remodeling job as "an example that people can work together and find a financially feasible way to make these old buildings into attractive, usable structures."

Building restored to attractive usefulness

Remodeling of the interior and exterior of the former Helpee-Selfee Coin Laundry, 1601 Pontoon Road, has been completed and part of the building now is being used as a beauty shop.

Realtor Bob Barton, who spearheaded the remodeling effort, cited the project as "an example that these old buildings can be economically remodeled into useful and attractive business places."

Barton, who purchased the building in conjunction with Gerald Thebeau, insurance agent, said many people from throughout the community assisted the effort.

He said the city inspectors were very helpful in suggesting the best and least expensive ways to meet the city building codes; the city street department helped pick up the trash and debris and repaired the sidewalk and curb.

Drew Karandjoff, loan officer of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, prepared the commercial loan to repair the building, his first such loan.

Barton stressed union help was used for all of the work except cleaning the building up and preparing it for the remodeling, which he did with the permission of the unions.

"This shows that union help can be used to undertake a remodeling project which can become an asset to the community. This old building was built to put value in it. It is attractive and esthetically pleasing."

The remodeling effort took six months to complete.

Barton said he will continue to lease portions of the building and anticipates eventually selling it. Besides the area being used for a beauty shop are areas designed for offices.

Program aimed at bettering postal service

Cong. Melvin Price has outlined a new test program of the U. S. Postal Service which has begun throughout Illinois in late May.

The "Service with Pride" program is aimed at bettering postal service to the consumer, Rep. Price explained. Any consumer who has a problem with the Postal Service may fill out a new Consumer Service Card provided at all local post offices.

One copy of this card will be sent to the local postmaster, while the other copy is sent directly to the Postal Service in Washington. In every case, the consumer will be contacted by a Postal Service field representative within 5-15 days of receipt of the complaint.

The representative will work directly with the consumer to resolve the problem and the results will be forwarded to the Postal Service in Washington. "This program is only a six-week experiment being tested in Illinois, Arizona, Massachusetts and Rhode Island," Cong. Price stated. "However, if it is successful, it will be implemented nationally by fall."

I think this program will be a boon to all those who use the postal system and I urge anyone who has a problem with their service to by all means let the Postal Service know through this efficient, convenient method. I hope that through this program we will all benefit from better, more courteous service."

Cameras, recorder taken in burglary

A tape recorder, valued at $114, a Polaroid camera worth $29, an instamatic camera and film, $25, and new bed sheets and pillow cases worth $30, were taken Monday in a burglary at 2037 Fourteenth St., reported by Joel Joseph.

The kitchen area was ransacked and the contents of desk drawers were scattered about the floor. Entry was gained by breaking a window and prying off the screen.

COINS, LIQUOR STOLEN

Andrew Gitchoff, a member of the Disabled American Veterans local chapter, reported the front door glass of the DAV Hall, 1419 Nineteenth St., was kicked in. An undetermined amount of coins was taken from the juke box and seven quarts of liquor was missing this week.

Calls may curb aid costs—state

The Illinois Department of Public Aid's toll-free telephone hotline to receive reports from citizens of alleged abuses of the state's welfare system is attracting statewide attention. The number, 800-332-8003, began operation at 5 p.m. May 23.

James L. Trainor, state aid agency director, said the service is the first of its kind in the country.

Only two other states, California and Massachusetts, have similar telephone hook-ups, but callers are required to identify themselves. In Illinois, Anonymity is at the discretion of the caller, according to James Bailey, assistant deputy director for special investigations.

Trainor said the hotline was set up to enlist citizen assistance in the department's efforts to identify ineligible cases on the state's welfare rolls. He said all information provided will be held in strict confidence.

Callers will be asked to leave their name and address so that the department can properly acknowledge the information and indicate that the action is being taken on what has been provided. Names and addresses of callers, if provided, also will be held in confidence, Trainor related.

He said the hotline will augment the agency's ongoing investigative operations. 135 investigators are now assigned to units in Chicago, LaSalle, Peru, Mt. Vernon, Springfield and East St. Louis.

The toll-free line is available 24 hours a day. Callers are asked to provide as much information as possible, Bailey said. The agency needs the nature of the complaint, name of the suspected violator, his or her address, former address if known, age if known, number of children, and name of employer if the recipient is employed.

Callers will be stored on a continuous tape in Springfield. Transcripts will be reviewed and assigned to investigators according to four priorities: Immediate investigation, investigation, referral to appropriate office for more information and action as indicated, and inadequate and incomplete for investigative purposes.

In case of the latter, Bailey said the staff will attempt to locate the caller for additional information.

"Illinois citizens long have been valuable sources of information involving alleged abuses of the welfare system," he commented.

Information is fed to the agency directly or through news media.

Trainor said the telephone hotline will greatly assist the state agency by being available to those who may be reluctant to use existing vehicles to report alleged instances of welfare abuse.

He urged all Illinois citizens to report any suspected violations of the public aid system. He said the information will help the department weed out offenders and violators and help insure that public aid dollars go to those who are eligible in Illinois.

Patient release policy assailed

Many formerly institutionalized state mental patients are being released to communities without any coherent plan for their care, a new report concludes.

Prepared by the staff of the Illinois Economic and Fiscal Commission, a bipartisan group of state legislators, the report confirms earlier allegations that the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities has been releasing large numbers of mental patients without a plan for their continued treatment or enough money to support local level treatment programs.

The report states that the release of patients without a plan for their continued treatment or enough money to support local level treatment programs.

Cameras, recorder taken in burglary

A tape recorder, valued at $114, a Polaroid camera worth $29, an instamatic camera and film, $25, and new bed sheets and pillow cases worth $30, were taken Monday in a burglary at 2037 Fourteenth St., reported by Joel Joseph.

The kitchen area was ransacked and the contents of desk drawers were scattered about the floor. Entry was gained by breaking a window and prying off the screen.

Butler in Navy amphibious test

Navy Aviation Fire Control Technician 3-E Daniel R. Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Butler, 818 Barkley Ave., Mitchell, participated in "Agate Punch," a joint Navy and Marine Corps exercise off the East Coast, this month. He is a member of Fighter Squadron 108, one of 10 aircraft squadrons involved in support of training activities. Forty-eight ships and 8,000 Marines also took part in the exercise, which included tactical maneuvers at sea and simulated amphibious assaults on beaches near the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C. It was designed to test the operational readiness and coordination of air, ground and seagoing units within the U.S. and Fleet. Butler is based with the squadron at the Naval Air Station, Oceana, Va.

Pontoon ok's federal flood insurance plan

The Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday enacted an ordinance which enables its residents to purchase federal flood insurance, and appointed a three-member board to oversee the program.

Village Board President Floyd Davis Moss said, "If we had not passed the ordinance, no more monies would be made available to us from federal financial institutions after Nov. 1, which would have virtually halted any commercial development here."

Appointed to the flood insurance board were Jerry Henderson, chairman, Freeman Clinard and Lee Ridgeway.

Dunbar burglary

Madison Police found a side door to the storage room at Dunbar School open during the weekend and discovered both the principal's and secretary's office were broken into.

Later, John Wallace, 611 Fillmore Ave., Venice, reported to Venice police he found a slide projector on grounds near the Granite City Army Installation. Venice police found a Bell and Howell movie projector and carrying case which were turned over to Madison authorities.

Existing state bond power not being used but more is sought

Illinois lawmakers should continue to reject Gov. Walker's request for up to $4.1 billion in building bonds because the program would cost too much; there is little evidence of a practical need for additional authority, and little to support the governor's claim that he would be able to use the money if it was available, Illinois Comptroller George W. Lindberg contends.

"The Walker administration presently has $2 billion in bonding power authorized by the General Assembly, but he is not using it."

"The General Assembly should ask the governor to use the authority already available, before he is given more," Lindberg declared.

"If the governor is sincere about helping the plight of the unemployed in Illinois, he has the clear-cut authority already to provide work in the construction fields. He has $260 million in borrowed cash to use today, if he desires. That money would aid a lot of people," Lindberg asserts.

"He has the authority to spend that cash. For the present fiscal year, the Assembly appropriated $1,135,000,000 for projects from bonding."

"Though the first 10 months of 1974-75, however, the governor spent only $147 million, or 12.7 per cent of that."

The comptroller, in a 36-page critique of the governor's debt financing program, pointed to the administration's "dismal record of performance in using present bonding authority."

He added, "I think this is an adequate measure of what this administration can be expected to do. The governor has money available to fight unemployment today, but he's not using it. That record is clear."

Commenting on a number of factors related to the borrowing request, Lindberg said:

1. The $3.2 billion in general obligation bond authority being asked for would cost taxpayers a minimum of $171 million for each $100 million in bonds sold, or 1.7 times the principle. This debt would run for 25 years and would be incurred at a time when the state is already outspending its income.

2. Normal growth in state income is not sufficient to cover the debt service on the program beyond fiscal 1975-76. It would require a tax hike, or cuts in services, perhaps as early as 1976-77.

3. Ninety-one per cent of unemployed Illinoisans would not be directly impacted by the program.

4. The program would boost the per capita debt rate in Illinois from $107 to $460, the highest in the nation.

5. The highest level of bond sales in a single year by any state was $568 million by Ohio in 1971. "There is no reality in believing Illinois would sell the $800 million in bonds in fiscal 1976 which the governor is asking. Even if he did, it would fall far short of his stated goal of fighting unemployment."

6. "In both Ohio and California (which sold $550 million in bonds in 1971), the massive sale creates a glut upon the market and the eventual sale was accomplished only by payment of penalty interest rates each time more bonds were offered."

"What this all means is that we should approach incurring heavy new state debt cautiously, especially when it is clear the governor has adequate existing authority to act now," Lindberg said.
